THE SENIOR CLASS OF JUNE 1948 PRESENTS

THE SENIOR OPTIMIST
SOUTH SIDE HIGH SCHOOL
NEWARK, N. J.

To the Seniors:

It is usual in messages to a graduating class that we turn our thoughts to the future. Just for this once will you let me have space to pay a compliment to the past?

One morning last winter when headlines brought gloom and alarm a friend remarked to me that there was pleasanter and more gracious living in America a generation ago, during the years preceding the first world war. I am glad that I was alive at that time. May I list some of the things that I believe we then had more of? More bicycling, more steamboats, more pianos in our homes, more gardens, more violinists and orchestras, more waltzes, more good newspapers, more simplicity, more church-going, more respect, more reading of books, more theaters, and more great actors, more baseball, more walking, more home cooking, more work, more thoughtfulness, more faith in ourselves and in our country.

And now it is clear that it means a good deal to me to be able to say in honesty that I do not recall a high school class of greater ability, likeableness, and future promise than the class of June, 1948. A happy and useful career to every one of you!

ARTHUR W. BELCHER

THE RINGMASTERS

MISS MARIE WOLFS
Vice-Principal

MR. L. J. BUCHNER Senior Optimist Adviser

As our Senior Optimist Adviser, Mr. Buchner did a noble job. His patience, tactfulness, and great assistance helped make our yearbook something to be proud of. Many of his wonderful ideas as well as novel ones were utilized and we feel these have given our Senior Optimist a novel appeal. All our praise could never really explain how wonderful he was.

BARNUM

To Mr. Blumberg, our musical director, we give warm thanks and appreciation for turning out one of the most successful Senior Shows ever given at South Side. Working enthusiastically in co-operation with Miss Waugh, his energetic personality and showmanship kept us right on our toes. For being the best musical director a senior show could possibly have, we all send our thanks and best wishes to one swell person—Mr. Blumberg.

MR. N. BLUMBERG Musical Director of Senior Show

MISS MARIE WAUGH Senior Adviser

THE SHOW OFFIN

We, the class of June, 1948, have been very fortunate, indeed, in having as our adviser Miss Marie Waugh. She has generously devoted her time and patience to our class whenever we really needed her. Without Miss Waugh our Senior Show would have been a failure, and our class a divided group. But through her interest in us and her pleasant disposition, she has brought all of us together to form one compact unit. Never could we really tell her all that she has meant to us, as a teacher and as a person. As a token of our gratitude, we dedicate this yearbook to Miss Waugh, and hope that it will keep her memory of us forever alive.

MISS V. SIEVERING

MRS. H. KISSNER

Our homeroom teachers are the ones who have played the part of our "school parents." It is they who have guided us, and shared our varied problems during our years at South Side. Their patience and understanding have meant more than words can tell.

PRISS AGRIS

When the time came to elect class officers, we made our choice with the realization that the necessary qualities were leadership and a a sense of responsibility. These officers have shown us that they were equal to handling with efficiency the many affairs of our Senior Class.

Eileen Ahearn

Eileen with her slim figure and attractive face, has been a delight to both the seniors and the rest of the South Siders. This girl can really wear clothes and has true artistic taste. There is no doubt that Eileen will be a successful model.

Anne Arena

Anne's graceful manner and gay personality are just a couple of the many reasons why she is so well liked and admired by everyone. One of the most neatly dressed girls, she is indeed a credit to our class and school.

Grace Albritton

Looking for a gay time with a gay girl? Then Grace is the one you want. Her cheery smile and good humor have made her a favorite with our class.

Gloria Bader

Gloria just bubbles over with charm and personality; yet inside her carefree air there is a great sincerity. Known also for her efficiency, she has achieved the title of being a dependable person.

Douglas Alexander

"Doug" is a fellow who will always have friends because of his patience and happy attitude. A quiet lad but a swell one, he will always be remembered by us.

George Bernstein

George is a new synonym for versatility. He is known to us through his amazing literary ability and natural thorough talent for comedy as well as all-around fellowship. We will miss you. Yet in our sorrow to see you go, we wish you all the good things in life.

LeRoy Bernstein

When we say ambition, we mean LeRoy. He has taken part in practically every activity possible here at South Side. Being a capable student as well as an athlete, he is one of the most unforgettable personalities we have ever met.

Marilyn Blum

We know "Lyn" as a quiet but not a shy girl. With her friendliness and sweetness she is always a lady. Lyn was a big help when it came to typing the material for our Optimist.

Steven Bialecki

Steve's motto seems to be, "Laugh, and the world laughs with you. Worry, and you worry alone." His chief attribute is that of being a sportsman, as was shown by his baseball progress.

Donald Blydenburgh

Donald is one of our classmates who can really boast about the number of friends he has made in South Side. We all enjoy his company for he is a happy-go-lucky person with a delightful personality. Those of us who have known Donald, will never forget him no matter where we are.

Mimi Blum

Mimi is an actress with real talent and unusual instinct for dramatics. She has a very well-groomed appearance, a friendly disposition, and a good mind, all of which will guide her steps through the dark paths to success.

Irene Bodnar

Irene's fine intelligence and character go hand in hand. She is a neat and tidy person who goes about all her tasks with efficiency. The sweet smile which she has for everyone is her specialty and our pleasure.

Catherine Bolin

Although a newcomer to our class, Cathy has fallen in with the rest of the gang. Her co-operative spirit and charming personality made her an immediate hit. This demure miss has what it takes to win your heart.

Rebecca Bowen

Our "Becky" can always be counted on to do the right thing at the right time. 'At the present, her greatest ambition is to become a nurse and with her good marks and determination, we know that she will succeed.

Frank Bradley

Frank is the tall, good-natured fellow with that captivating personality. He loves to kid around but when there is work to do, he meets it with a fixed determination. For just being one swell guy, we salute you, Frank.

Catherine Brescia

Smart, sweet and sincere are but a few of the many adjectives needed to describe Catherine. Her lovely skin and beautiful dark hair mark her pleasant appearance. We just wish there were more like Cathy to cheer us up.

Ann Brown

A cheerful little lassie with big bright eyes and poised stature goes by the cute name of Annie. Sometimes she was quiet and reserved and other times gay and carefree but at all times she was our own sweet classmate.

Beatrice Brown

Bea has won us completely with her beauty, pleasing voice and friendly manner. Her rare quality of combining sophistication and simplicity has made her an outstanding personality.

Mary Brown

Mary is a very genial person with an artistic mind. In all classes she was always a standout due to her agile intellect. Her friends will always testify that in Mary they found a true helpful individual.

Edward Byrnes

Ed is a loyal South Sider, proud of his wonderful school. He has been a valuable member of our G.O. Patrol and served faithfully for several years. Whenever our class needed help, he was there to assist.

William Brown

William was a rugged athlete with a robust manner and a hardy laugh. He has won many friends and admirers because of his football ability and vigorous personality. We congratulate Mickey on being a top sportsman, one who plays because he loves the game.

Francis Burns

A happy person with a retiring personality best describes Francis. His pleasant speaking voice and friendly attitude make him popular with the class. He is loyal and participates in both the school and class activities.

Chauncy Carter

Modesty, charm, and good looks make up Chauncy. She has been a chief asset to our class because of her cheery smile and friendly "hello" for everyone she meets."

Gerald Case

Gerry is our Gabriel, a trumpet player who can really play. He sometimes seems retiring, but to those who really know him, he is a real wit with a wonderful sense of humor.

Rocco Cattenacci

The wise man who said "good things come in small packages" has proof of his statement in Rocky. He is a remarkable student, yet has an agile frame. Rocco, you're one of the biggest guys we know.

Marion Clark

"Candy" with her smiling face and warm personality is loyal to all her classmates. Her willingness to be a friend made her an asset to our class.

Madeline Champion

Tall and slim with a most inviting smile is Madeline. She has a contagious laughter, one that makes you feel that here is a nice person to know. Laugh at the world, Madeline, and it will bring nothing but happiness to you.

Irene Climick

That charming miss with the fluffy golden hair and understanding smile is none other than our own Irene Climick. Her keen mind and co-operative spirit have won her the title, "the one who did most for South Side." We will always love her because in our hearts she reigns as queen.

Leonard Chavis

We have a star athlete in Len. A Track and Football letter man, he was chosen to be on the 1947 Al City Football team. His manly disposition has and will win him host of friends.

Milton Collett

Milton saunters quietly through the halls in a seemingly silent manner. But don't let this fool you. He haken an active part in our class and is one of the most faithful are energetic members. We'll remer ber Milt for his gentlemanly manner and pleasing personality.

Dolores Conlon

As a magnet attracts metals so were ve attracted to Dolores. Her loveiness combined with sincerity have een the delight of all of us. A nore pleasant and understanding serson is hard to find.

George Cook

George is that good looking fellow with that cherubic smile and personality galore. He is known through South Side's halls as an ace saxophone player. As assistant music director of the Senior Show, George merits all the appreciation possible from his senior friends.

Nicholas Cymbalisty

Our class was very fortunate in having Nick as one of our loyal members. On the field he was an expert cross-country man who really could run. Nick is very lucky indeed in having a mind as swift as

Malissa Dantzler

Malissa is a seemingly quiet girl. She always gets things done without a lot of fuss. Her willingness take an active part in our class made her one of our choicest members.

Anthony De Dominick

If you meet someone with a cheery smile and a friendly hello for all, that's "Tony." With his pleasing personality, friendliness, and dependability, he cannot help but find success and happiness in life.

William Dietz

"Billy" is a happy-go-lucky fellow with a mischievous gleam in his eye, and a personality that is hard to forget. With him around, fun comes naturally. We wish him the best of luck and success in life.

Harry Dorfman

Wherever there's a crowd, there's Harry. His clever and magnetic personality makes him the center of attraction at all times. He showed us his true worth by becoming a member of the Honor Society.

Bella Eaker

To know Bella, that sweet charming young woman, is an enjoyable experience. Her good natured attitude and neat appearance make Bella one of the nicest individuals in all of South Side. For showing us that a wonderful personality is one of the greatest gifts, we all thank you.

Dolores Eskas

"Rusty" is a swell person, quiet ye cheerful. All of us who have known her have gained grea wealth, for we have known a person with inward beauty and unpretentious sincerity. We all thank you for just being your sweet self

Cecelia Fields

Under Cecelia's quiet surface there is a warm-hearted fun-loving girl. She is also a true friend and a wonderful person. Here's wishing lots of luck and success to Cecelia.

Margaret Evans

Marge was a dauntless person who would never give up once she started something. She intermingled freely with the other members of our class, showing real interest in us. We all liked Margaret both as a person and as a friend.

Rose Marie Foley

Like the flowers, our Rose has a sweet disposition that makes her lovely to be with. She is happy and charming to all her many friends, and one of the nicest persons we've ever known.

Anita Franklin

Full of fun and fancy free best describes this versatile miss. Her nusical ability (she is an expert accordionist) helped make our senior night a total success. Anita also has the fortitude and courage to make herself a successful individual in whatever she attempts.

Herbert Garber

Herbert is one of those fellows who can talk himself in or out of almost any situation. His clever remarks have chased gloom from many a classroom. With his swiftness and intellect, Herbert is sure to make a successful account of himself.

Gerard Frasier

Jerry is a new member of our class who is more than a welcome addition. He has a very handsome and clean-cut appearance besides a good sense of humor. Whether in the classroom or out, he was a good sport and a loyal South Sider.

Helen Fredman

Helen has a quiet and reserved nature yet a sweet and charming personality. We all love and admire Helen for she had proved to us that silence is a virtue.

Corleas Gaskins

Popular both with her many friends and the rest of the 4A class, Corleas has made a lasting impression on us seniors. In all her subjects Corleas proved that she was a capable, intellectual student with exceptional ability.

Morty has always been one of the members of the South Side Social Set. With his smooth, sophisticated appearance, he has won high popularity among his classmates. We are sure that with his taste and refinement he will make his mark in the world.

Shirley Kraftchick

Shirley is a true friend. Her sincerity, unselfishness and school spirit have made her a likeable member of our class. It has been a pleasure to know you.

Martin Landsman

Martin is a good example of a true friend. He loves all his fellowmen sincerely, and they all like him. His conservativeness and helpfulness are admired by all.

Carlita Lawson

A tiny girl with an eternal twinkle in her eyes and a tinkle in her voice, petite Carlita can add some sunshine to any rainy day. We are proud to list her among our favorite classmates.

Elaine Levine

Elaine is charming and so different. Her personality, which is alive and enthusiastic, has won for her our friendship. If you want to know someone debonair and gay, get to know Elaine.

Joan Levinson

Bubbling vitality, a pretty face and a fine mind make up our Joan. She definitely proves that beauty and brains can be combined very effectively. It's really been fun knowing her.

Hilda Lewis

Hilda has a glorious gift, her gorgeous face. Here is real beauty, clear-cut, and fine. Her long black hair, heavenly smile, and brown velvet eyes have rightfully won for her the honor of being the prettiest girl in our class.

Bernice Lowe

For four years, Bernice remained one of those essential persons without whom the class wouldn't be the same. She has a wonderful mind and amiable personality, and they both help her to keep her many friends. Bernice will always be happy because she enjoys her life.

Alma Lovett

Alma is like an electric current, full of life. Her sense of humor and friendly smile have won for her a host of friends. Few of us will forget her.

Lois Mandell

Lois is one of the most enjoyable people to know. Her flaming red hair and smiling blue eyes make everyone happy. She was one of those who helped form our Senior Optimist.

Elizabeth Mason

Quietness does not hinder Elizabeth's success, for she gets things done quicker in her own quiet way. The ladder to success is a long one, but we have every reason to believe hat Elizabeth will reach the top.

Cornelius Matthews

"Corny" is what you might call a real comedian, one who can make anyone burst into laughter. Being also a true sportsman at heart, he entered freely many of the athletic activities available in South Side.

Geraldine Matthews

"Gerry's" personality has a way of attracting and keeping friends. She is always entertaining us with her amusing anecdotes and naive remarks. A smart dresser and an attractive girl, Gerry is well liked by all.

Mildred Miller

Millie is frank, friendly, and de lightful to be with. Her mos charming asset is her expressiverystal blue eyes through which she can convey her thoughts. A slin figure, blonde hair and a pert little nose blend to make up Millie, on of our prettier senior girls.

Fred Metzger

With his nose always to the grindstone, Fred's mind has been admirably sharpened. Critic, scientist, satirist, he seeks constantly for new knowledge. We are justly proud of his many accomplishments.

Raymond Moody

Ray is our idea of a smooth guy. He's a tall, dark and handsome felow with an impish twinkle in his eye. We admired Ray's good looks to greatly that we voted him the pest looking in our class.

Aileen Murphy

Aileen is another of the famous redheads of the Class of June '48. Despite the old saying that carrottops have horrible temperaments, quite the contrary is true. Aileen has been friendly and gets along well with everyone.

Thomas Mouring

Tom is one in a million, a gentleman and an athlete. We admire him for his football prowess; we look up to him as our school president; and we like him for the swell person he is.

Carolyn Muessig

Although a newcomer to our class, Carolyn is one of our most popular and outstanding girls. She possesses curly blonde hair encircling a sweet face and a charming smile. These things make Carolyn an ideal classmate and friend.

Mary Murphy

Behind Mary's quiet and reserved manner is a fun-loving nature which makes one like her on the spot. This, together with her ability to work hard, and her intelligence, can bring her nothing but the very best in life.

Margaret Murray

Marge is really a wit, and when she's around, the gloomy skies fairly burst with sunshine. In any crowd she stands out above all others. Keep happy and cheerful, the world wants your type of individual.

Susan Neugass

"Susie" is that cute, lively girl, who, although a three and one-half year student, has become a welcome member of our class. She is sociable, a good mixer, and in her spare time has become an expert beautician.

Robert Noonan

"Bobby" has already found his niche in the hall of fame through his outstanding record as an ace boxer. To us however he is still that good natured fellow about whom we'll be proud to say, "He was a friend of mine back in South Side."

Elizabeth Nowlin

Whenever you're with Elizabeth there is never a dull moment. He winning smile and friendly manne have a way of creating an air o gaiety. Elizabeth has shown an in terest in athletics besides being good sport" in every way.

As good-natured and understanding as she is pretty, "Paul" is one who just seems to attract friends. All of her qualities have made her one swell person to know and one we will not soon forget.

Fred Pfirrmann

Fred has been a dominant figure in our class. Clever, athletic, capable, and witty best describe the fellow whom we elected as our 4B president. You haven't met the finest until you get to know Fred.

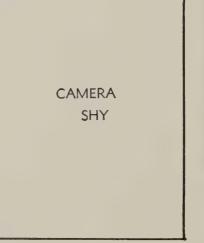

Celestia Phillips

Because of Celestia's quiet ways and willingness to extend a helping hand to those in our class, we can all say that without her many of our happy days at South Side wouldn't have been so wonderful.

Josephine Porter

It is a very rare class that can boast of an individual like Josephine Her enticing smile, and co-operative attitude have always made her the center of attraction. She also did a very noble job on the Senior Optimist staff and on other school committees.

Henry Reese

Witty and wise, Henry has shown us what a really swell fellow is. In the school his merry laughter and pleasing disposition gained him great popularity. A happy person like Henry will surely enjoy life.

Esta Reicher

Although Esta is a three and on half year student, she has becom a vital part of our class. To have largely owe the success of or monthly Optimist. We know the we can expect great things frowher

Theresa Purzycki

Wherever you see a gang having a lot of fun, you'll find "Babe" right there. With her long blonde hair and slim figure she is one of our most attractive twirlers.

Mary Reilly

fary with her lovely blonde hair as friendly blue eyes which smile tyou whenever you speak to her. Her sweet disposition was revealed by us by the way she was always rilling to help even when it meant reat trouble to her. Mary was always a welcome addition to any roup as well as a great aid.

Alan Roth

Alan has everything—looks, broad houlders and an alert mind. His willingness to serve was demonstrated on the stage crew. He is fun loving individual that can be toth witty and wise.

Anitta Richter

Ambition, personality, sophistication and intelligence make up the successful career woman, and Anitta has all four of these qualities. Life is hard but with her attributes, Anitta is sure to conquer it.

March Riley

March is like the month for which he was named. When you see him he appears as strong and domineering as a lion, but in reality he is as gentle and kind as a lamb. For his loyalty and friendliness we are proud of him.

Saul Rubin

Saul's fine mind and friendly helpful manner have made him a respected member of our class. His greatest achievement is the outstanding academic record which has won our admiration. Both his intelligence and unusual character insure him success.

Francis Salimbene

Francis is that short cheerful fellow who creates a sensation wherever he goes. His vibrant personality never fails to warm the hearts of his classmates. Although short, Francis has the heart of a giant.

Robert Salovitch

Bob is an enthusiastic South Sider, happy and wise. He took part in many activities including basketball, the science club, and the projectors staff. In our opinion, Bob is the cream of the crop.

One of the most beloved members of our class, Juanita can best be described by saying that she is cute, intelligent, and full of sparkling personality. Her beautiful voice has made many assembly programs enjoyable to all.

Carl Scherlacher

To be an athlete and a scholar both at the same time is quite an accomplishment, but this Carl has done. In basketball he was one of those important links that made up a strong team. The world wants some happiness and Charlie will surely bring it.

Antoinette Schifano

We all associate petiteness, charm, and beauty with Toni. Her expressive eyes and dainty features made her an outstanding person to see. Besides all this, she is a very pleasant individual and a marvelous conversationalist.

A resonant voice, individuality and good looks, all these make up Henry. We will remember him especially for his happy disposition and helpful attitude. We wish you all the success which you justly deserve.

Betty Jean Schoepfer

Betty is one of the eager members of our class who is always willing to give assistance. She has the kind of frank, friendly smile that attracts and brings success.

Alan Schwartz

Quiet and reserved, Alan does his daily tasks with a determination which makes him admired by all his friends and fellow students. His wit and helpfulness have won him many everlasting friendships.

John Scott

John was both an athlete and a scholar, a man and a friend. On the track team he was a constant winner; in the classroom, an honor roll student. His vitality makes him the kind of person that you must get to know.

Edward Schwartz

Here is a real man, a man who loves both sports and knowledge. Whether in the Honor Society or in the swimming pool, Ed is an outstanding figure, one to be looked up to.

Cory Lee Scott

Cory is a member of our class of whom we are all proud. She is a true woman, charming, friendly, pretty, happy. She wears her clothes well and has an unusual taste for fashions. Keep yourself as you are, for that is how we always want to remember you.

Jerome Shapiro

Jerry's personality has never failed to dazzle the fairer sex, and his amazing skill as our No. 1 fencer has astounded many an opponent. We will surely miss bumping into his cheerful grin around the halls.

William Shapiro

Will is a serious-minded fellow who is always ready to voice his opinion on any current topic of great importance. His sincerity and cordiality have won him many new friends.

James Silveria

A broad grin coupled with a grand sense of humor is Jimmy's obvious charm. His personality and harmonious voice make him a prominent member of both Madrigals and Mixed Chorus.

Lois Silverman

Lois is a charming young miss with raven black hair. Her sincerity and modesty have won her many friends. We know that whatever Lois attempts, she is bound to make good.

William Silverman

Fencer de luxe is our William. As a valuable addition to our Fencing team, he managed to pull some of our meets out of the fire. Besides this, he has a sense of humor and brains. He is the type of person you just want to have as a friend.

Bernice Simmons

Her sterling qualities, her initiative and dependability have made Bernice a respected Senior. Bernice also has that gift of making people like and admire her.

Annette Siovitch

Annette has a lovely face, one that demands a second look. Yet this beauty has loads of talent for she is a virtuoso with the violin. With her wonderful assets Annette will surely reach the pinnacle of success.

Leo Sirakides

Leo is an all-around fellow. He enters into work and play with equal enthusiasm and usually comes out on top. He has proved this by being successful as president of the Honor Society and Treasurer of our class for three consecutive terms.

Genevieve Smigelski

Genny is that charming, lovely little lady who seems to love life. On her face there is that captivating smile that radiates her happiness. What a wonderful personality has Genevieve.

Robert Smith

"Bobby," a happy-go-lucky and good natured fellow, is known and liked throughout our school. He made one of our best football managers.

Loretta Spak

Loretta has that suave, well dressed look which gives her a refined appearance. Her versatility and ambition have won her a place on our list of favorites.

Malcolm Sturchio

Mal is a symbol of supreme ability in activities, scholarship and sports. He was very active in and out of South Side as our G. O. President and one of our better cheerleaders. All that he attempted he accomplished with the perfection of a master.

Lowell Thomas

Lowell possesses one of the most pleasing dispositions to be found among our ranks. His arresting blue eyes depict his earnest and enthusiastic nature. Lowell's chief interest lies in his guitar which he plays excellently.

Lucille Thomas

Never at a loss for words, or for a joke to cheer up others, Lucille was always found in the midst of a sea of laughter. Her good humor and friendly manner will cause us to long remember her.

Lucille Thompson

Pretty "Mickey," with her adorable turned-up nose, is one of the cutest girls in our class. Her helpfulness and sincerity have made her very popular. We know she will have all the happiness she so well deserves.

William Ulrich

A wonderful personality and a grand sense of humor are owned by Bill. A quiet, unselfish boy, he can always be seen working with and helping his classmates. This cooperativeness won for him a name among both teachers and pupils.

Leonard Visotski

On the football field or in the classroom, Lenny is a commanding figure. His boyish handsomeness and Adonis frame won for him the admiration of our class. He was always a champion, and will always be one.

Margaret Wagner

Pat's pleasing disposition and amiable nature have won her many lasting friendships. Her sparkling blue eyes, gleaming brown hair, and delightful smile all sum up to make her an image of beauty.

Janet Walker

Janet is quite a young lady, reserved and quiet. Her resoluteness and determination to succeed gave to Janet the quality of sticking to whatever she attempted until she mastered it. Her gracious and casual manner also won her many friends.

Roy Walton

For a combination of brains and handsomeness, Roy can't be beat. The graduates of June '48 will long remember Roy as Vice-President of our class.

John Warnock

Although he is ordinarily a quiet and composed individual, John has put himself wholeheartedly into South Side activities. Besides, Johnny is an all-around good fellow with initiative and ability. His cheerful smile will win him friends wherever he goes.

Lenore Weiner

Lee is one of the "prize packages" of our class. With her rare combination of beauty and brains, she has shown real ability as a student, and as a friend. We know her to be one who is always ready to lend a helping hand.

Margaret Weissman

Margaret has foreign beauty, a rare glamour that commands everyone's attention. But Margaret has much more than beauty, for she was a dominating member of the honor society and our choice for the most versatile girl.

Genevieve West

Genny has that rare quality of combining fun with work. Active both in and out of school, she has been an important member of our band and a great help as chairman of our senior photography committee.

Lorraine West

Lorraine is the only girl in our class to graduate with highest honors, and of this she can be very proud. Upon entering South Side, Lorraine's determination to be successful even from the first won the attention and praise of her teachers. We wish that all your days may be as happy as your four years in South Side.

John Wilkenloh

Bob leads a double life, one as a remarkable athlete, the second as an all-around good fellow. His handsome appearance, blended with brains, make him a well-rounded individual.

Claude Williams

Claude is one of the reserved gentlemen of our class. He has served his class as Senator and in many other ways. Claude, with his neat appearance and handsome features, is always welcome in any group.

Clinton Williams

Clint's dynamic personality and mischievous smile warmed everyone's heart. As a member of our cheering squad, Clint took an active part in supporting our teams. It's been swell having this happygo-lucky fellow in our class.

Edward Williams

Behind his reserved manner, Ed conceals an unusual sense of humor, as was shown by his clever art work and cartoons. His looks, coupled with his other assets, have made him a pleasant classmate to all of us.

Hortense Williams

Short, demure, friendly, sincere, all these blend to make Hortense. Though small in structure, "Horty" has a tremendous brain. With all that you've got, we'll be looking for great things from you.

LeRoy Winbush

Tall, slim, and friendly are but a few of the many adjectives needed to describe LeRoy. Like a brand new parcel, he has been a welcome addition to our senior class. We realize that we have gained a real asset when LeRoy joined our group.

Melvin Wolfson

A retiring, intelligent fellow with a wonderful personality is Melvin. He, though a three and one-half year student, was an active individual both in the school at large and in the 4A class activities. He has been a valuable asset to us.

Lawrence Wolper

Though quiet, Larry has often come across with some witty remarks that we couldn't forget. His personality is well balanced with a little humor, a bit of seriousness, and a maximum of intelligence; so we feel confident that Larry will make his mark in life.

Joseph Zwinak

Well known among the students and teachers for his integrity and dependability, Joe possesses a fine character and intelligence which have made him a qualified member of our Honor Society. With these traits he need not fear the future, for success is sure to be with him.

Eugene Womack

There is never a dull moment with "Genie" around — his personality captivates all those about him. His fine character makes him an excellent and true friend.

Mildred Zemel

Millie's friendly and sweet personality have won her a host of friends, her radiant red hair and cherubic face, many admirers. Stay as nice and cute as you are; we will always remember you so.

Samuel McCray

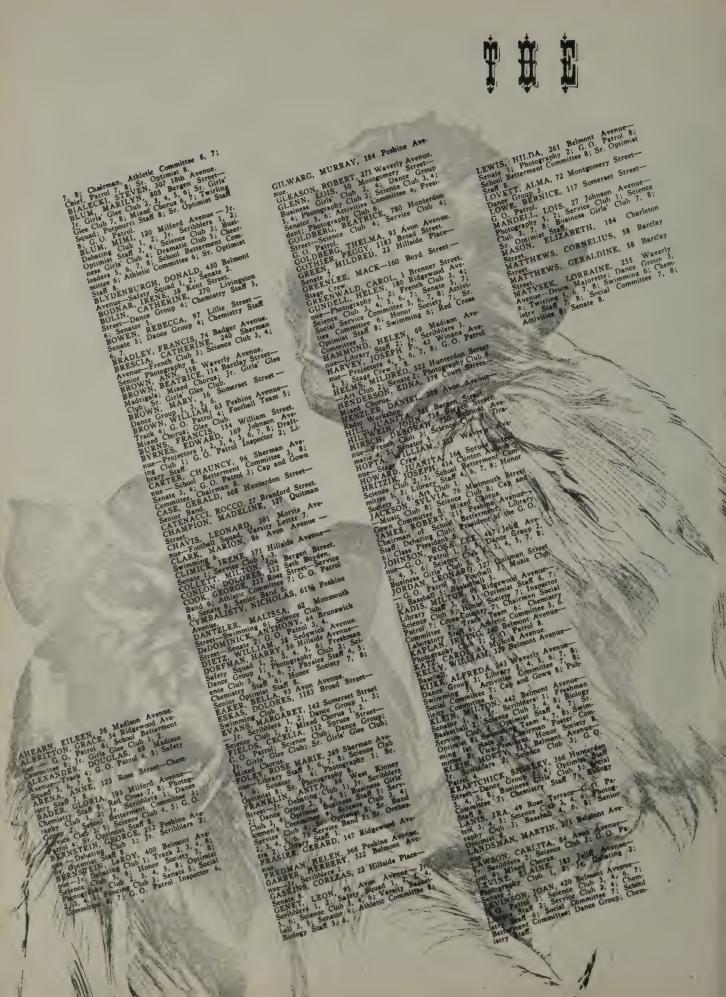

An ambitious and energetic person, Sam has made a hit with all our class though quite a new addition. We all now wish to thank him sincerely for the great interest he took in us and in our class organization.

Hate

Pull out thy eyes, pull them out, I say. Stare not into my mortal face; I loathe thy orbs, thy red, red orbs Wrapped in bloodstained Devil's lace.

Germ of germ, dread parasite, Get thy claws from out my heart For I am sick and need a rest Before thou throwest that fatal dart.

Dear Lord, It's got my tongue and throat; Please give me Love, great antidote.

by Saul Rubin

Today

Today, today, today!
Forget tomorrow, forget yesterday,
Live today as you wish to live it.
Make today an ideal day.
Don't hesitate, do all those impulsive things,

Those things you've longed, so long to do,
Don't let others stop you.
Though they seem to mimic you,
They are envious.
For they hesitate on the brink,
Undecided, uncertain, afraid.

While you are conquering, They are losing;
While you are progressing,
They are stalwart.
You are the victor;
Today belongs to you
Because you have made it so.
by Carol Katz

Moods

The world is cold, and dark, and dreary. The tree limbs are like the waving arms of atrocious giants trying to get me in their grip in order to drain every ounce of life out of me. The windows of the houses make ugly faces at me and while looking at them, I stumble and fall over rough places in the sidewalk, scraping my hands and knees. I cry out for help, for love, for sympathy, but no one will listen to me. The ragged little street urchins laugh at me and chant silly, tormenting phrases. I take out a mirror to straighten my wind swept hair and seeing the reflection of an ugly distorted old woman, my blood runs cold. That's the picture of things on "blue Mondays" and those days when nothing goes right and everything I say or do is wrong.

Then, a young man comes along with a friendly whistle or a flirtatious glance, and although I am completely aloof and contemptuous, my spirits start to rise.

A warm greeting from the folks I love, a look of admiration, or a true compliment, and the distorted picture begins to take on a more normal shape.

Helping someone and gaining that feeling of usefulness, makes the children turn

Helping someone and gaining that feeling of usefulness, makes the children turn into delightful creatures.

A lilting tune or an exhilarating whistling melody on the radio and the blood begins to race warmly through my veins, and I again have that feeling of well-being which is radiated through a smile.

Czech and Double Check!

Before the income tax confusion we decided to go bankrupt by investing in a new four-wheeled vehicle. So, we pushed out our Cadilincoln Land Cruiser, cranked it up and hopped into it before it ran off by itself.

As I drove down the street between miles of used car lots, raucous voices blared at me from megaphones and loudspeakers:

"The Smiling Slovak will pay you four hundred dollars for that car!" "The Laughing Mongolian will pay you five hundred dollars for that car!"

The Convulsed Czech yelled that he would give six hundred dollars for it. I drove it into the lot for "info" on this deal.

Two tough-looking gentlemen jumped out from behind a parked "Flowing-Drive," grabbed the ignition key, dragged me out of the car, and began to twist my arm behind my back. The Convulsed Czech, himself, came over and thrust six one hundred dollar bills in my pocket. One of the men kept twisting my arm until I had finished signing the car over to them. When I had finished, the Convulsed Czech lit his cigar with a fifty dollar bill and chuckled, "That's the way I like to do business; no waste of time or extra expenses. Well, chum, how about another car?" he asked.

"That's what I came here for," I sobbed, applying a splint to my arm.
"We got some real bargains here, chum. Take this 1921 Essex; it was owned by a paralyzed minister. Used to sit in it every Sunday in the garage. Not a mile on the speedometer. It was carried from the showrooms when he bought it, and we carried it here." He rolled a spitball out of a twenty dollar bill and fired it at a fat lady who was passing.
"You know, chum, we dealers have to make a living, so I'll let you have it for fifteen hundred dollars."

I explained I wanted something a LITTLE cheaper, so he led me to a back corner on the lot.

"Here's your dream, chum-(p)! The first Stanley Steamer built by Ford. Genuine bicycle wheels, easy to get tires for. It has a two horsepower, single cylinder engine in the rear, ready to speed you over the highways this summer. It has a little mileage on it, so I'll let you steal it for a thousand."

An hour, fifty cars and one motorcycle later, he admitted defeat. As we walked to the front of the lot, he suddenly stopped, threw a handful of twenty dollar bills in the air and said, "I got just the buy for you, chum. A Cadilincoln Land-Cruiser. In tip-top condition." It was the car I had sold him sixty minutes before. I figured that I had better buy it back and get away from the Convulsed Czech while I still had the fillings in my teeth.

'How much?" I asked wearily. "Let's say a basic price of $800."

I quickly started to write out a check; I was getting off easy. The Convulsed Czech grabbed my pen.

"Wait a minute, chum. This car has been rebuilt. We put in a new cigarette lighter and a new gearshift nob. That'll be two hundred dollars extra."

I tried to grab my pen back to finish the check but he wouldn't let me have it. "There's also an extra charge for servicing. We cleaned the windshield and polished the chrome on the radiator cap. Add another fifty bucks."

"Anything else?" I asked.

"Not a thing, chum. Here it is, all in the contract. $1,050 complete. Just sign here." After I had signed he glanced around and sidled up closer. "I don't like to mention it, chum, but it's customary to slip me a hundred for holding the car for you."

"But you didn't hold it for me. I just brought it in an hour ago," I said. "Ah, you underestimate me, chum. When I saw you I said to myself, 'There's a sharp operator. He'll be back for that Cadilincoln.' So I held it for you."

I slipped him the hundred and got out as fast as I could with my life. I figure that under the circumstances I got the best of the deal.

The Guiding Hand

The little child lay fast asleep in its crib, its tiny hand clinging tightly to the cover. The proud new parents stood over it protectingly. They didn't speak a word; they just stood, thinking.

The mother straightened the cover. Her thoughts wandered to a few years from now; her son was going to be very handsome, intelligent, and popular. He would be the center of every group of girls. She looked down on him fondly—and then one day he'll get married too, and raise a family of his own. How proud his parents will always be of him!

On the other side of the crib the father planned the child's education. He would, of course, go to the best schools, and when he was old enough to appreciate it, a trip to Europe would be good. The choice of a profession would be left up to him to decide. Maybe he'd be a doctor like his grandfather, or a lawyer like his father. Or he may even be the President, and why not?

He looked up to meet the eyes of the mother, and they smiled proudly.

Would this infant grow up to his parents' expectations? Yes, maybe, but on the other hand, look what may happen. Sickness or death may strike. Poverty may set in. Instead of a doctor he may turn out to be the patient. Instead of the lawyer, he may turn out to be the criminal. Instead of respect he may bring shame to his family.

The infant lies helpless in his crib. What is it that guides his destiny? Who is it that steers his course?

Reflection

Cloud that drifts on summer's air, What know'st thou of man's despair? Bring thy message to the heart and soul Of those, who in pursuit of gold Forget that love is Life's one care. Wealth and war are bosom friends, They're the evil force that bends The twig of life until the very leaves Wither and die, yet no one grieves, Still never can they make amends. For your reply, fair cloud, I wait; Can wealth breed love instead of hate?

by Saul Rubin

Escape

On walking by a sheltered glade I chanced to meet a little maid: I looked at her; she looked at me; A single glance, the only need.

We danced and danced, the maid and I, We danced the fields and forests by; We played and romped in swaying grass, My woes forgotten with this lass.

Our flight was wond'rous to the sight; Twirling, whirling, through the night; We spiraled on—up to a cloud, She curtsied fine and then I bowed. And as I bowed the gay cloud vanished; I fell to earth, an angel banished. I searched the earth, I searched above, But could not find my true heart's love.

The years are hard, the years are long, But still inside this loss I mourn: In time I hope to find this girl; And twirl and twirl, and twirl and twirl.

by Edward M. Schwartz

Four Years Well Spent

In all my four years at South Side the most important thing I have learned is how to get along with my fellow man. Brotherhood Week is practiced every day of the year here because there are so many different races and religions. Instead of shunning people as they do in other countries, we have learned to work with them. If everyone practiced this, he would find that there would be less disagreement in the world. Here at South Side one race is not considered better than another. We work, study, and eat together. In other countries people of different races or religions won't even walk on the same side of the street. I consider these people ignorant, because they don't realize that their religion is as good as someone else's. Some people can't be blamed for this discrimination because they lived in a country that was ruled by a dictator. The idea that their religion or race is the best was taught to them so often that they came to believe this. These people must be taught otherwise but not punished, because they are not to be blamed.

If everyone would practice in the way we get along at South Side, the world would become a more peaceful place in which to live.

by Morty Klein

Search

My thinking life began for me when I entered high school and became introduced to unromantic writing. James Fenimore Cooper and Company were left behind and I entered today's world of two billion people. When I was a freshman, it didn't seem too difficult to solve the puzzle which had these people in such a perplexing state. Now that I'm a Senior everytime I read the newspaper, a book, or listen and speak to someone the problem becomes more complex. We're in a dark forest of monstrous size. How shall we get out of it? How can we lose our fear to win our peace, and at the same time not lose our intellectual integrity? How can we change from economic beings to human beings?

It has been said that there are two questions which could be argued eternally: religion and politics. This is not true. The reason for basic religion is man's desire to find an answer for all being, for the existence of the entire universe, from the timest plant which we walk over and crush, to the most tremendous, untouchable, beckoning star. A divine spirit can be found only by the innermost and outermost searching of the individual. I am just beginning my search. Whether or not I shall find my answer I cannot tell, but I hope that when I come to a conclusion, if I do, I will feel and know it to be my truth.

However, politics is not divine. Social institutions are created by men, and man can alter them just as well. What should the alterations be? What can offer us economic justice without infringing upon our individual liberties? How can we enlarge our entire life? How can I make mine more meaningful? By reading, listening, watching, and living I may find some of the answers. You might also!

All these boys continued their running career with the Track Team in the spring. Le ran the 440, John the half-mile and Nick and Bob, the mile.

Len Chavis and Mickey Kadis were our weightmen. Len threw the discus while Mickey put his strength behind the shot.

Gene Womack earned his track varsity by high jumping. Gene was a hard man to outjump. Kadis was also manager of the Cross-Country Team for two years.

The team placed second in the New York University Tournament in February and tied with Weequahic for third in the State Meet. It takes long years of constant practice to develop a successful fencer. The sport engenders sportsmanship of the highest order and our boys eminently proved this fact.

They include Milton Klein, breaststroke; Fred Pfirrmann, backstroke and Ed Schwartz, freestyler. Al Schwartz, who was a member of the '47 team, was not able to swim this past season. Milty won a medal as a member of the City Championship medley team. Eddy laid claim to two championship medals, one in the medley relay and one as a member of the third-place relay team. Fred placed second in the backstroke, and received a silver medal. The medley team in winning broke the old record which was set by a South Side team in 1942. All three boys have received two varsity letters in swimming and have made plans to continue their swim careers in college.

In all, the team returned with eleven medals. The season's record included seven wins.

To the Graduation Class

In a world conscious of food values, Dietetics grows in importance as it serves the nation and mankind. To men and women, REGARDLESS OF AGE, the field of Dietetics offers excellent opportunities and diversified positions with hospitals, public health and welfare organizations, food manufacturers, institutions, clubs, hotels, restaurants, schools, transportation companies, resorts, department stores and a variety of other fields.

The Institute occupies four spacious floors . . . smartly appointed with modern, extensive equipment and a school operated restaurant.
